

Comments from past weekends:

"The memory of this very special weekend is something we will always treasure."

"Being able to concentrate as a couple with no interruptions was very valuable to us."

"We didn't want to miss it, and the Novi Marriott location made it more affordable for us to attend."

"The marriage retreat was the tune-up we needed. It reminded us why we fell in love with each other... I highly recommend the FHCoG marriage retreat to any couple who wants to feel more connected to their spouse no matter where they are at in their relationship."

We believe that marriage is a gift to be celebrated.
This unique and wonderful relationship is a life-long challenge that requires a little bit of wisdom and a lot of effort.

Winter Weekend Getaway

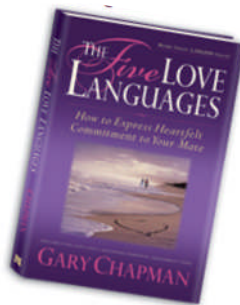

“Take your marriage from GOOD TO GREAT!”

Great marriages know that “time away together” is like a tune-up for their relationship. We invite you to experience a weekend where you can concentrate on each other free of distractions and the pressures and tensions of the world.

The atmosphere is designed for couples to have fun learning about themselves, their spouse, and how God fits into their marriage. This is not group therapy and everything you share and talk about is done as a couple privately together.

A portion of the weekend is based on the book, The Five Love Languages, by Gary Chapman. You will learn what love language you speak and learn to speak your spouse’s love language. Since we all speak and recognize love through one or two of these love languages it is important to learn about them.

Space is limited and available on a “first-come, first-served basis”—so please register early!
